

At the start of the century had we randomly surveyed 100 people in the world, we would have got 17 phone subscriptions amongst them

A similar experiment at 2017 would have resulted in 128 subscriptions amongst the 100 surveyed

1 row = 10 subs.